this book offers the first comprehensive introduction to one of the most significant arab thinkers of the late 20th century and the early 21st century the moroccan philosopher and social theorist mohammed abed al jabri with his intellectual and political engagement al jabri has influenced the development of a modern reading of the islamic tradition in the broad arab islamic world and has been in recent years subject to an increasing interest among muslims and non muslim scholars social activists and lay men the contributors to this volume read al jabri with reference to prominent past arab muslim scholars such as ibn rushd al ghazali al shatibi and ibn khaldun as well as contemporary arab philosophers like hassan hanafi abdellah laroui george tarabishi taha abderrahmane they engage with various aspects of his intellectual project and trace his influence in non arab islamic lands like indonesia as well his analysis of arab thought since the 1970s as a harbinger analysis of the ongoing arab spring uprising remains relevant for today s political challenges in the region suspensions about the integration of islam into european cultures have been steadily on the rise and dramatically so since 9 11 one reason lies in the visibility of anti western islamic discourses of salafi origin which have monopolized the debate on the true islam not only among muslims but also in the eyes of the general population across europe these discourses combined with islamophobic discourses reinforce the so called incompatibility between the west and islam this book breaks away from this clash between islam and the west by arguing that european islam is possible it analyzes the contribution that european islam has made to the formation of an innovative islamic theology that is deeply ethicist and modern and it clarifies how this constructed european islamic theology is able to contribute to the various debates that are related to secular liberal democracies of western europe part i introduces four major projects that defend the idea of european islam from different disciplines and perspectives politics political theology jurisprudence and philosophy part ii uses the frameworks from three major philosophers and scholars to approach the idea of european islam in the context of secular liberal societies british scholar george hourani moroccan philosopher taha abderrahmane and the american philosopher john rawls the book shows that the ongoing efforts of european muslim thinkers to revisit the concept of citizenship and political community can be seen as a new kind of political theology in opposition to radical forms of islamic thinking in some muslim majority countries opening a new path for examining islamic thought in and of europe this book will appeal to students and scholars of islamic studies islam in the west and political theology islam has long been a part of the west in terms of religion culture politics and society discussing this interaction from al andalus to the present this handbook explores the influence islam has had and continues to exert particularly its impact on host societies culture and politics highlighting specific themes and topics in history and culture chapters cover european paradigms muslims in the americas cultural interactions islamic cultural contributions to the western world western contributions to islam providing a sound historical background from which a nuanced overview of islam and western society can be built the routledge handbook of islam in the west brings to the fore specific themes and topics that have generated both reciprocal influence and conflict presenting readers with a range of perspectives from scholars based in europe the us and the middle east this handbook challenges perceptions on both western and muslim sides and will be an invaluable resource for policymakers and academics with an interest in the history of islam religion and the contemporary relationship between islam and the west in assisi at the end of 2003 theologians and historians from various countries as well as different denominational backgrounds met to attempt an overview of religious studies in the 20th century this meeting contributed to the debate about the effects of epistemological transitions on theology and religious studies in the 20th century the interdisciplinary approach and the historical political and interdenominational character of the participants panel enabled the meeting the proceedings of which are published here to identity some coordinates on the path of the 20th century from the point of view of theological and religious studies
