this book focuses on the themes of intimacy and identity in the contemporary novel and in particular in the novels of a s byatt angela carter and jeanette winterson not only do the specificity of the contemporary social context and a growing awareness of the relational nature of the concepts of intimacy and identity set these novels apart from earlier writing that take these issues more for granted their very concern with the themes of intimacy and identity also sets them apart from much postmodernist or mannerist writing that chooses to cold shoulder these arguments the study draws on work by contemporary social theorists and philosophers and aims to examine issues which although central to the writing of these authors have been neglected or treated superficially in literary criticism finally it looks into the ways in which the new approaches to the question of intimacy and identity relate and contribute to contemporary debates on the postmodern novel the concept of romantic love influenced as it is by the theme within romanticism of alienation and identification suggests an important connection between love and personal identity love in this context recognizes both the sense in which one s beloved is a separate human being and is at the same time a constitutive aspect of one's identity alienation and identity in romantic love explores this connection in the context of discussions of both metaphysical views of personal identity and practical or ethical accounts to this end gary foster discusses the work of influential philosophers in both the analytic and continental traditions as well as the findings of sociologists he explores the love and personal identity relationship through moral and narrative perspectives and examines certain aspects of the modern love experience such as the phenomenon of online dating ultimately foster finds in jean paul sartre's work a promising approach to understanding this connection through his emphasis on embodied identity the book deals with the relation between identity ethics and ethos in the new testament the focus falls on the way in which the commandments or guidelines presented in the new testament writings inform the behaviour of the intended recipients the habitual behaviour ethos of the different christian communities in the new testament are plotted and linked to their identity apart from analytical categories like ethos ethics and identity that are clearly defined in the book efforts are also made to broaden the specific analytical categories related to ethical material the way in which for instance narratives proverbial expressions imagery etc inform the reader about the ethical demands or ethos is also explored who am i and do i really matter this is a heartfelt cry today articulated in different ways often even among those who claim to be christians paul mallard shows us what the bible teaches us about our identity as human beings and more specifically as christians we look at our relationship with god with the church with our family and in the workplace the starting point is the nt book of ephesians which is far more relevant today than we might think the author brings us right into the heart of his family explaining how abe his young grandson in spite of severe disability from birth was made by a loving and kind creator with unique value and immeasurable dignity in fact our dignity as humans stems from the fact that god has created us in his image how amazing is that this is a book which will orientate and reassure us offering genuine confidence but it will also move our hearts to praise god for investing such value in human beings like us and for sending his son jesus so that we could have freedom from sin and enjoy the status of sons and daughters preface 1 who am i 2 unbelievably blessed 3 undeservedly rescued 4 unimaginably transformed 5 every barrier is down 6 every person is needed 7 everyone worships something 8 against the flow 9 the home men and women 10 fight for who you are 11 people of hope 12 more loved than you can imagine if there s anyone who knows about the darker side of online dating it s nev schulman the 29 year old rose to fame after his documentary catfish about an online flirtation of his which turned sour became a breakout hit he followed it up with a series on mtv which followed similar stories of digital deception across america nev has become the go to expert in online relationships for millennials a generation who have never known a world without facebook his clout in this area springs from his own experience which led him to coin the term catfish referring to someone who creates a false online persona to reel someone into a romantic relationship now nev takes his investigation to the page woven throughout with nev s personal stories this book explores relationships in the era of social media delving deeply into the complexities of dating in a digital age and continuing the cultural dialogue his show has begun about how we interact with each other online in in real life nev explores the pressing issue of connectivity versus genuine connection which is plaguing our relationships with each other and he provides the advice that his
