Herblock's history is an article written by Harry I. Katz that was originally published in the October 2000 issue of the Library of Congress Information Bulletin. The U.S. Library of Congress based in Washington, D.C. presents the article online. Katz provides a biographical sketch of the American political cartoonist and journalist Herbert Block (1909–2001) who was known as Herblock. Block worked as a cartoonist for the Washington Post for more than 50 years and his cartoons were syndicated throughout the United States. Katz highlights an exhibition of Block's cartoons that was on display at the U.S. Library of Congress from October 2000. Images of selected cartoons by Block are available online.

Introduction. Representing Congress presents a selection of political cartoons by Clifford K. Berryman to engage students in a discussion of what Congress is, how it works, and what it does. It features the masterful work of one of America's preeminent political cartoonists and showcases his ability to use portraits, representative symbols and figures, and iconic personifications to convey thought-provoking insights into the institutions and issues of civic life. The House of Representatives and Senate take center stage as national elected officials work to realize the ideals of the founders. This eBook is designed to teach students to analyze history as conveyed in visual media. The cartoons offer comments about various moments in history and they challenge the reader to evaluate their perspective and objectivity. Viewed outside their original journalistic context, the cartoons engage and amuse as comic art, but they can also puzzle a reader with references to little remembered events and people. This eBook provides contextual information on each cartoon to help dispel the historical mysteries. Berryman's cartoons were originally published as illustrations for the front page of the Washington Post and the Washington Evening Star at various dates spanning the years from 1896 to 1949. Thirty-nine cartoons selected from the more than 2,400 original Berryman drawings preserved at the Center for Legislative Archives convey thumbnail sketches of Congress in action to reveal some of the enduring features of our national representative government for more than 50 years. Berryman's cartoons engaged readers of Washington's newspapers illustrating everyday political events as they related to larger issues of civic life. These cartoons promise to engage students in similar ways today. The cartoons intrigue and inform, puzzle and inspire like Congress itself. Berryman's cartoons seem familiar at first glance; closer study reveals nuances and design features that invite in-depth analysis and discussion. Using these cartoons, students engage in fun and substantive challenges to unlock each cartoon's meaning and better understand Congress as they do so.

students will develop the critical thinking skills so important to academic success and the future health and longevity of our democratic republic. 2 representing congress show this ebook is organized. this ebook presents 39 cartoons by Clifford K. Berryman organized in six chapters that illustrate how congress works. Each page features one cartoon accompanied by links to additional information and questions. Teaching with this ebook. Representing Congress is designed to teach students about congress, its history, procedures, and constitutional roles through the analysis of political cartoons. Students will study these cartoons in three steps: analyze each cartoon using the NARA cartoon analysis worksheet; analyze several cartoons to discuss how art illustrates civic life using worksheet 2; analyze each cartoon in its historic context using worksheet 3. Optional directions: 1. Divide the class into small groups and assign each group to study one or more cartoons in the chapter, Congress and the Constitution. 2. Instruct each group to complete worksheet 1, Analyzing Cartoons. Direct each group to share their analysis with the whole class. 3. Instruct each group to complete worksheet 2, Discussing Cartoons. Students should apply the questions to all of the cartoons in the chapter. Direct each group to share their analysis in a whole class discussion of the chapter. Repeat the above steps with each succeeding chapter. 5. Direct each group to share what they have learned in the preceding activities in a whole class discussion of Congress and the Constitution. Optional activity: assign each group to read the historical context information statement for their cartoon. The students should then use the historical context
