mahasweta devi occupies a singular position in the history of modern indian literature and world literature this book engages with devi s works as a writer activist who critically explored subaltern subjectivities the limits of history and the harsh social realities of post independence india the volume showcases devi s oeuvre and versatility through samples of her writing in translation from the original bengali including jhansir rani hajar churashir ma and bayen among others it also looks at the use of language symbolism mythic elements and heteroglossia in devi s exploration of heterogeneous themes such as exploitation violence women s subjectivities depredation of the environment and failures of the nation state the book analyses translations and adaptations of her work debates surrounding her activism and politics and critical reception to give readers an overview of the writer's life influences achievements and legacy it highlights the multiple concerns in her writings and argues that the aesthetic aspects of mahasweta devi's work form an essential part of her politics part of the writer in context series this book will be useful for scholars and researchers of indian literature bengali literature english literature postcolonial studies cultural studies global south studies and translation studies this book re-thinks the literary and social worlds of mahasweta devi the prolific and influential writer and social activist in connection to her praxis it brings into focus devi's preoccupation with the human nature and life and unwritten or distorted histories that underline her poetics of translating resistance in terms of a radical alterity the defining feature of devi's writings is the position she adopts in defence of the human questioning the nature of the abject in her discourse on the oppressed essays in this volume focus on her subversive retellings from the mahabharata the political aspects of translation adaptation of her works in literature cinema and visual arts and comparative readings of her works by women authors from the global south as well as the indian diaspora they examine her early publications her writings for children and the notion of aesthetics i.e. ethics and in aesthetics as a gesture to pave forward a discourse on liberation and social justice that remains a challenge for the world the book will be of significant interest to scholars and researchers of postcolonial and decolonial studies critical translation and adaptation studies comparative literature the visual arts myth and folklore studies gender and sexuality studies caste and ethnicity studies culture studies ethics in and aesthetics activism studies democratic and indigenous rights discourse south asian studies and global south studies resistance and identity in twenty first century literature and culture voices of the marginalized is a compendium of reflections on literary texts politics of literature and culture the book proffers ruminations on the pivotal role of constructive and positive resistance to reconstruct identities for meaningful human existence the disciplinary power and dominance coerce the natural body to resist and yearn for freedom one can establish unique identity by refusing to conform to pressures of society that deform the natural body dominant forces and oppressive structures evoke resistance that can range from polite demurrer to refusal resistance comes from the will that refuses to be controlled and governed the refusal of the ordinary illuminates ordinary lives bodies language and literary texts contain essential truths of such human existence words and imaginary worlds in literary works reveal truth and suggest possibilities for reconfiguring the order the present book while making a close study of the thematic concerns in mahasweta devi's five plays attempts to show the uniqueness of her dramatic vision and her artistic excellence in the treatment of unusual themes that bring home to us the different modes of exploitation prevalent in both urban and rural world
