intended for teachers and students of american literature this book is the first comprehensive analysis of romantic tendencies in postmodernist american fiction the book challenges the opinion expressed in the columbia history of the american novel 1991 and propagated by many influential scholars that the mainstream of postmodernist fiction is represented by the disjunctive and nihilistic work of such writers as kathy acker donald barthelme and robert coover professor alsen disagrees he contends that this kind of fiction is not read and taught much outside an isolated but powerful circle in the academic community it is the two part thesis of professor alsen s book that the mainstream of postmodernist fiction consists of the widely read work of the nobel prize laureates saul bellow and toni morrison and other similar writers and that this mainstream fiction is essentially romantic to support his argument professor alsen analyzes representative novels by saul bellow j d salinger norman mailer flannery o connor john updike kurt vonnegut philip roth thomas pynchon toni morrison the later john barth alice walker william kennedy and paul auster professor alsen demonstrates that the traits which distinguish the fiction of the romantic postmodernists from the fiction of their disunctive and nihilist colleagues include a vision of life that is a form of philosophical idealism an organic view of art modes of storytelling that are reminiscent of the nineteenth century romance and such themes as the nature of sin or evil the negative effects of technology on the soul and the quest for transcendence this new volume in the jps guides series is a fiction reader s dream a guide to 125 remarkable works of fiction the selection includes a wide range of classic american jewish novels and story collections from 1867 to the present selected by the author in consultation with a panel of literary scholars and book industry professionals roth mailer kellerman chabon ozick heller and dozens of other celebrated writers are here with their most notable works each entry includes a book summary with historical context and background on the author suggestions for further reading point to other books that match readers interests and favorite writers and the introduction is a fascinating exploration of the history of and important themes in american jewish fiction illustrating how jewish writing in the u s has been in constant dialogue with popular entertainment and intellectual life included in this guide are lists of book award winners recommended anthologies title author and subject indexes and more chosen by paul auster out of the four thousand stories submitted to his radio programme on national public radio these 180 stories provide a wonderful portrait of america in the twentieth century the requirement for selection was that each of the stories should be true and each of the writers should not have been previously published the collection that has emerged provides a richly varied and authentic voice for the american people whose lives loves griefs regrets joys and sense of humour are vividly and honestly recounted throughout and adeptly organised by auster into themed sections the section composed of war stories stretches as far back as the civil war still the defining moment in american history while the sequence of meditations conclude the volume with a true and abiding sense of transcendence the resultant anthology is both an enduring hymn to the strange everyday of contemporary american life and a masterclass in the art of storytelling
