if we are to utilize our individual greatness in all that we do then we must have the confidence and assurance of knowing who we are often this can appear to be a very difficult task because in our day to day lives it may seem that much of what we are experiencing is not something that seems so great but in essence it really is great and as we focus on our god given purpose regardless of our circumstances in life we should see the wonderful future awaiting us god is simply preparing us to be the vessels that he so predestined us to be after reading this book you will be challenged to take on the healthy esteem that god desires for you to have so that you can be all that god has called you to be

this is a story of a clash of two generations a discordance of two personalities a subliminal chord of racism all playing out in the individualism of two lovers and the man's mother eddie is the man flora is his fiancée mrs kate is eddie's mother all three engage in a vortex of drama each ruled by the emotive factors of their own generation but mrs kate is engrossed in a stereotype she is raised with as a child a stereotype that eventually proves to be false for in the end love embedded in passion and empathy conquers and envelopes the evil of stereotypes shining forth like the blazing sun of the summer
