from one of the 20th century's great writers comes one of the finest autobiographies of our time. Speak Memory was first published by Vladimir Nabokov in 1951 as conclusive evidence and then assiduously revised and republished in 1966. The Everyman's Library edition includes for the first time the previously unpublished chapter 16, the most significant unpublished piece of writing by the master, newly released by the Nabokov estate, which provided an extraordinary insight into Speak Memory. Nabokov's memoir is a moving account of a loving, civilized family of adolescent awakenings, flight from Bolshevik terror, education in England and émigré life in Paris and Berlin. The Nabokovs were eccentric liberal aristocrats who lived a life immersed in politics and literature on splendid country estates until their world was swept away by the Russian Revolution when the author was eighteen years old. Speak Memory vividly evokes a vanished past in the inimitable prose of Nabokov at his best.

A personal recollections ranging from St. Petersburg to St. Nazaire in Russia from 1903 to 1940. An interesting read with photos.

Speak Memory said Vladimir Nabokov and immediately there came flooding back to him a host of enchanting recollections of his comfortable childhood and adolescence of his rich, liberal-minded father, his beautiful mother, an army of relations and family hangers-on and of grand old houses in St. Petersburg and the surrounding countryside in pre-revolutionary Russia. Young love, butterflies, tutors and a multitude of other themes thread together to weave an autobiography which is itself a work of art. Part of a major new series of the works of Vladimir Nabokov, author of Lolita and Pale Fire in Penguin Classics.

One of the most acclaimed authors on the meaning of reading and writing takes on Nabokov's classic memoir.

Based on intertextual evidence in Nabokov's late novel Invitation of a Small Creature, this monograph traces the triad of memory, recollection, and imagination which is central to Nabokov's poetics and art of life writing back to the works of St. Augustine of Hippo, who on the threshold of the early Middle Ages wrote the first autobiography and to whose autobiographical writings this triad is likewise essential. Furthermore, this book investigates to which extent the Augustinian art of memory influenced Nabokov's fictive autobiographies by selecting a sample comprising Mary Mashenka, The Gift, Lolita, and Invitation of a Small Creature. The continuous importance of the Augustinian paradigm throughout Nabokov's multilingual career is demonstrated.

In their virtuoso displays of literary talent, Nabokov and Kundera showcase the strategies that allow their protagonists to succeed as émigrés: a creative fusing of past and present through the prism of the imagination

despite vladimir nabokov's hostility toward literary labels he clearly recognized his own place in cultural history in a fresh approach stressing nabokov's european context john foster shows how this writer's art of memory intersects with early twentieth century modernism tracing his interests in temporal perspective and the mnemonic image in intertextual reminiscences and in individuality amid cultural multiplicity the book begins with such early russian novels as Mary then treats his emerging art of memory from Invitation of a Bearded Man to the gift after discussing the author's cultural repositioning in his first english novels foster turns to nabokov's masterpiece as an artist of memory the autobiography Speak Memory and ends with an epilogue on Pale Fire as a cross cultural overview of modernism this book examines how nabokov navigated among proust and bergson freud and mann and joyce and eliot it also explores his response to baudelaire and nietzsche as theorists of modernity and his sense of dostoevsky tolstoy and pushkin as modernist precursors as an approach to nabokov the book reflects the heightened importance of autobiography in current literary study other critical issues addressed include bakhtin's theory of intertextuality deconstructive views of memory benjamin's modernism of memory and nabokov's assumptions about modernism as a concept vladimir nabokov one of the 20th century's greatest novelists is particularly remembered for his masterpiece Lolita the present work examines the enduring themes of Lolita and places the novel in its biographical social cultural and historical contexts of particular interest are questions of love in all of its manifestations the central problem of time in the book and memory as it is explored in fictional memoir or in this case the central protagonist's confession in this book multiple authors and perspectives converge on the materiality of storytelling in order to court its potentialities and flesh out its tensions reflecting through its methodological multiplicity not only the vast array of discourses and disciplines that concern themselves with the study of narration but also the various and variable subjects of the act of telling the collective effort of this volume is less to map or track than to amplify the possibilities of contingent situations embodied relations and specific texts in which beyond the tale the telling itself speaks and matters
