in 2014 15 the ethiopian government together with many academics and observers was surprised by the outbreak of anti government protests as large scale public contestation of the ethiopian people s revolutionary democratic front eprdf had been largely absent in the regime s history the dominant narrative about the eprdf regime was that it was a top down government using authoritarian methods to ensure the population abided by its visions and directives and describing its role in paternalistic ways such as being the protector and guardian of the people changing this narrative citizens civil society and activism under the eprdf regime in ethiopia considers how citizens and civil society expressed their interests and exerted their agency in an authoritarian setting focusing on the eprdf regime over a period of three decades up to 2019 the book explores civic activism in ethiopia presenting diverse examples of how citizens have re shaped the country challenging state centric readings of state society relations under eprdf governance this collection provides a counternarrative that emphasizes the role and agency of citizens and civil society the contributing authors draw on a heuristic analytical framework that examines different types of interactions between civil society and state actors co optation co operation coexistence and contestation and captures the ways in which civil society actors make their voices heard at a time when authoritarian forms of governance are increasingly prevalent across the world this critically important collection offers insight into how citizens claim their agency and challenge state power in apparently top down contexts khat a harmless natural stimulant or a lethal epidemic sweeping through the international drugs trade khat is a natural substance that in the middle east is as ubiquitous as coffee is in the west it is hugely popular in some african and arab populations but critics contend that it is a seriously addictive stimulant that damages the cardiovascular system in a groundbreaking study the authors go behind the veil of the drug questioning its availability and its effect on its red sea producers interwoven with case studies from djibouti to rome the khat controversy goes deeper to explore contemporary issues relating to globalization ethnicity and culture with its popularity escalating in london rome toronto and copenhagen khat is fast becoming a problem in the west the first study of this contested drug the khat controversy provides a concise introduction to the issues surrounding khat usage and suggests how policymakers should address them the khat controversy stimulating the debate on drugs has received an honorable mention for the african studies association s 2008 melville j herskovits award this book reviews contemporary research on urban infrastructure in 76 ethiopian cities it examines urban infrastructure issues in these cities and covers a wide range of topics from sustainability and smart cities to research methods employed by urban infrastructure investigators with regard to ethiopian cities research on urban infrastructure legitimacies and modalities has established its value worldwide in recent years though it is still fairly young in the ethiopian context the first chapter outlines ongoing issues of debate concerning urban infrastructures including but not limited to discourses on sustainability smart cities innovative financing methods and potential partnerships urban infrastructure issues in ethiopian cities are examined in the second chapter while the third chapter presents a review of the most relevant literature for researchers findings show that the citations in the research reports are mainly from the materials available over the internet including who un habitat and unpublished local materials the fourth chapter identifies patterns in the findings and recommendations of the research reports discussed the results reveal that there is a wider gap between supply and demand with regard to urban infrastructure in ethiopian cities a situation that is further aggravated because of the growing urban population and already existing backlogs the fifth chapter reviews the essential methods employed by urban infrastructure investigators in ethiopian cities in this regard the cross sectional study method with the use of survey method has been broadly adopted among investigators lastly the book presents a summary and recommendations it was observed that the urban infrastructure boom in ethiopia is primarily concentrated in the key cities and the current pattern of urban infrastructure provision does not incorporate the notion of sustainability hence the book calls for setting the agenda of future research on urban infrastructure and services in ethiopian cities together with the universities private sector and government who should ideally collaborate to produce the knowledge needed to improve quality of life welfare productivity and economic growth
