the western frontier was officially pronounced closed in 1890 the year harvey fergusson was born in albuquerque he spent his life reopening it in a series of novels stretching from the classic wolf song to the belatedly acclaimed grant of kingdom and the conquest of don pedro in this first full biography and critical study robert f gish sees fergusson as a modern frontiersman in love with the outdoors women and writing the scion of new mexico family prominent in business and politics fergusson moved restlessly from one new frontier to another always seeking to recreate in his life and work the adventure and freedom enjoyed by his ancestors after a strenuous open air life by the rio grande he went east to raise a ruckus as a journalist and then to hollywood as a screenwriter all the while testing his sexual mettle finally freelance writing was the only frontier available to one of his imaginative energy fergusson s early novel wolf song is still considered one of the best ever written about the mountain man gish shows the writer embracing the gloriously masculine and atavistic role of a lone rider even as he scorned the worship of the primitive fergusson struck up a friendship with h l mencken and theodore dreiser who influenced his literary style and played a part in the development of taos and santa fe as meccas for artists and writers based on extensive research including fergusson s diaries and correspondence frontier s end goes a long way toward reconciling the regional with the mainstream in american literature in the person of a serious novelist whose importance is finally being recognized drawing on the principles of welfare economics and public finance this second edition of cost benefit analysis theory and application provides the theoretical foundation for a general framework within which costs and benefits are identified and assessed from a societal perspective with a thorough coverage of cost benefit concepts and their underlying theory the volume carries the reader through the steps of a typical evaluation process including the identification measurement and comparison of costs and benefits and project selection topics include alternative measures of welfare change such as the concepts of consumer surplus and compensating and equivalent variation measures shadow pricing nonmarket valuation techniques of contingent valuation and discrete choice experiment perspectives on what constitutes a theoretically acceptable discount rate the social rate of time preference income distribution and much more the book also focuses on real world applications of cost benefit analysis in two closely related areas environment and health care followed by an examination of the current state of the art in cost benefit analysis as practiced by international agencies indian sundarban is blessed with adequate diversity of small indigenous fish species sifs it is usually believed that integration of those species in the form of commercial culture along with present carp based production system can increase the overall efficiency of aquaculture production on the one hand as well as can provide food and nutritional security to the poor fish farmers on the other but despite all efforts and enormous potentials the production level and productivity are still not adequate to meet the large gap between potential and actual yields of fish in the present book attempts have been made to locate the efforts of aquaculture diversification and its effect on efficiency of overall fish production in sundarban on more secure foundation of data and methodology in this study based on primary survey attempts have been made to examine the structural and operational features of diversified aquaculture practices and to identify the factors which impede the development of fisheries in indian sundarbans this extensive bibliographic essay underpins the entire tarragona vortex study by focusing on this arena as one of the most contested frontiers in western history comparable to jerusalem in the east for broad issues of romanization westernization islamization and christianization its book length chapters treat 1 diverse historiographies from local and spanish to comparative mediterranean and crusade history and especially ethno historiography and the explanatory concept of frontiers 2 the phenomena of religion conversion and reform and the conditioning agents of islam and latin christianity in practice and adversity 3 religious universalism and violence especially religious war 4 the crusade and reconquest paradigms and century long debate 5 the environment on land and sea and setting for this history although these themes are explored to include due reconsideration but avoid major digressions in its telling about tarragona and the tarraconensis they underly so much of late antique and medieval historical research that this discussion pertains to the whole field of historical cultural and religious studies
