today s unprecedented pace of change leaves many people wondering what new technologies are doing to our lives has social media robbed us of our privacy and fed us with false information are the decisions about our health security and finances made by computer programs inexplicable and biased will these algorithms become so complex that we can no longer control them are robots going to take our jobs can we provide housing for our ever growing urban populations and has our demand for energy driven the earth's climate to the edge of catastrophe john browne argues that we need not and must not put the brakes on technological advance civilization is founded on engineering innovation all progress stems from the human urge to make things and to shape the world around us resulting in greater freedom health and wealth for all drawing on history his own experiences and conversations with many of today's great innovators he uncovers the basis for all progress and its consequences both good and bad he argues compellingly that the same spark that triggers each innovation can be used to counter its negative consequences make think imagine provides an eloquent blueprint for how we can keep moving towards a brighter future learning from failure in the design process shows you that design work builds on lessons learned from failures to help you relax your fear of making mistakes so that you're not paralyzed when faced with a task outside of your comfort zone working hands on with building materials such as concrete sheet metal and fabric you will understand behaviors processes methods of assembly and ways to evaluate your failures to achieve positive results through material and assembly strategies of stretching casting carving and stacking this book uncovers the issues problems and failures confronted in student material experiments and examines built projects that addressed these issues with innovative and intelligent strategies highlighting numerous professional practice case studies with over 250 color images this book will be ideal for students interested in materials and methods and students of architecture in design studios as a second attempt after architecture beyond the anthropocene already available online this book is presenting a new set of reflections in a time at a pivot point 62 young architects to be are facing their own future and roles in a world experiencing massive changes on all levels climatic economic political cultural social the confusions the wonderings the hopes and maybe above all the questions amass to navigate in this unknown and volatile territory a series of speculating lectures on architectures varying foundations and possible creative paths were offered along with a list of books presented at the end of this book this book argues for the value of the material prototype as a critical site of design innovation through a series of design and architectural case studies illustrated by physical objects such as chairs columns and building façades these full scale material investigations reflect their designers deep knowledge of material manufacturing and geometry the projects do not simply express how they are made rather their designers leverage the capacities of metal forming to exert distinctive influence on the object s expression and performance embracing manufacturing processes as instruments of material innovation organized in two parts part one presents the material framework informing work by arad newson heatherwick future systems foster oma rex hadid and others seven metal forming techniques including press forming press brake forming spinning panel beating casting extruding and superplastic forming are presented alongside work implemented with these processes part two presents original design research thermoformed aluminum façade systems ask critical questions of the part tessellation the mold tooling the seam and the finish post processing illustrating the potential of design inquiry when techniques of material production alter techniques of design aluminum is redefined inheriting a plasticity which alters the intrinsic qualities of its raw production for students and professionals in the fields of industrial design and architecture this book presents an optimistic role for material in the design process
