this volume is the first study of the diary in french writing across the twentieth century as a genre which includes both fictional and non fictional works from the 1880s it became apparent to writers in france that their diaries a supposedly private form of writing would probably come to be published strongly affecting the way their readers viewed their other published works and their very persona as an author more than any other andré gide embraced the literary potential of the diary the first part of this book follows his experimentation with the diary in the fictional works les cahiers d andré walter 1891 and paludes 1895 in his diary of the composition of his great novel le journal des faux monnayeurs 1926 and in his monumental journal 1889 1939 1939 the second part follows developments in diary writing after the second world war inflected by radical changes in attitudes towards the writing subject raymond queneau's works published under the pseudonym of sally mara 1947 1962 used the diary playfully at a time when the writing subject was condemned by the literary avant garde roland barthes's experiments with the diary 1977 1979 took it to the extremes of its formal possibilities at the point of a return of the writing subject annie ernaux's published diaries 1993 2011 demonstrate the role of the diary in the modern field of life writing throughout the century the diary has repeatedly been used to construct an oeuvre and author but also to call these fundamental literary concepts into question this study examines the relations between the work of the polish english novelist joseph conrad and the french nobel prize winner andré gide gide's translation of conrad's typhoon is read as a work belonging paradoxically to the oeuvres of both writers where their respective preoccupations meet with illuminating results focusing also on other major works by conrad and gide the study suggests that the intertextual and personal interaction between these two masters of 20th century fiction was governed by processes of identification and projection conflict between master and disciple and a consequent resistant reading of texts and confrontation with linguistic and cultural heterogeneity issues of translation theory psychoanalysis and intertextuality are brought together to offer a glimpse of a possible dialogue between literature and ethics this study will be of interest to students and researchers in english french and comparative literature a specially tender piece of eternity considers and redefines virginia woolf's treatment of time by focusing on the key ideas of moments of being ecstasy and rapture the book argues the close relation between woolf's experiments in narrative and her concern to challenge ineffability in portraying the experience of a linear time included are the minutes or procès verbal of the council from its first meeting paris january 16 1920 to the session the budget for the 3d financial period 1921 in 1920 no 7 1921 no 9 1923 no 1 of each year statements of the present situations as regards international engagements registered with the secretariat saar basin periodical and other reports and papers reports on the financial reconstruction of austria and of hungary and many other reports and papers here reintroduced into literary circulation is an ignored yet rich and original page in russian literary history the unnoticed generation of russian writers who took up residence in france after the bolshevik coup of 1917 leonid livak analyzes the position of these writers in the context of french modernist literature examining the ways in which french literary life influenced émigré artistic identities and oeuvre the book challenges commonly accepted notions of émigré isolation from french literature and culture and is instrumental in reaching a fuller understanding of the cultural mechanisms involved in the effort by an expatriate community to carry on a creative existence
