from pulitzer prize winning critic paul goldberger a full fledged critical biography of frank gehry undoubtedly the most famous architect of our time fascinating an informative startling journey into the inner sanctums of modern architecture s power structure the new york times book review riveting full of little known facts about the pritzker prize winner that will surprise the most knowledgable gehry philes architectural digest goldberger follows gehry from his humble origins the son of working class jewish immigrants in toronto to the heights of his extraordinary career he explores gehry s relationship to los angeles a city that welcomed outsider artists and profoundly shaped him in his formative years he surveys the full range of his work from the bilbao guggenheim to the walt disney concert hall in la to the architect's own home in santa monica which galvanized his neighbors and astonished the world he analyzes his carefully crafted persona in which an amiable surface masks a driving ambition and he discusses his use of technology not just to change the way a building looks but to revolutionize the very practice of the field comprehensive and incisive building art is a sweeping view of a singular artist and an essential story of architecture's modern era focusing on six leading contemporary architects peter eisenman frank gehry bernard tschumi zaha hadid rem koolhaas and steven holl this book puts forward a unique and insightful analysis of neo avant garde architecture it discusses the spectacle and excess which permeates contemporary architecture in reference to the present aesthetic tendency for image making but does so by applying the tectonic of theatricality discussed by the 19th century german architect gottfried semper in doing so it breaks new ground by opening up a dialogue between the study of the past and the design of the present the work of each discussed architect is seen as addressing a historiographical problem to this end and this is the second important aspect of this book the chosen buildings are discussed in terms of the thematic of the culture of building the tectonic of column and wall for example rather than the formal and this through a discussion that is informed by the latest available theories having set the aesthetic implication of the processes of the digitalization of architecture the book's conclusion highlights strategies by which architecture might postpone the full consequences of digitalization and thus the becoming of architecture as ornament on its own right with the recent triumph in bilbao frank gehry became one of the two or three living architects whose names are known outside the field within architecture and the arts however gehry has longstanding and tremendous respect and this conversation with the architectural historian and getty center founding director kurt w foster testifies to the ways in which gehry's concepts continue to invigorate not just the language of architecture but the arts in general the implicit sculpture of gehry's work reveals a communion between artistic disciplines and he has collaborated with the likes of serra kelley and koons this book furthers that open dialogue which gehry clearly views as essential between the arts this anthology brings together the best and most interesting papers from the first ten years of the journal of architecture published together for the first time in a single volume covering a wide range of topics of central importance to architecture today the papers also address the related topics to which architecture and architectural studies are inextricably linked the invited authors draw on sociology philosophy cultural studies and the sciences to round out the collection and highlight the breadth and vitality of modern architectural studies offering perspectives from different disciplines as well as different
