this book introduces students to christian mysticism and modern critical responses to it christianity has a rich tradition of mystical theology that first emerged in the writings of the early church fathers and flourished during the middle ages today christian mysticism is increasingly recognised as an important christian heritage relevant to today s spiritual seekers the book sets out to provide students and other interested readers with access to the main theoretical approaches to christian mysticism including those propounded by william james steven katz bernard mcginn michael sells denys turner and caroline walker bynum it also explores postmodern re readings of christian mysticism by authors such as jacques derrida jean luc marion and jean françois lyotard the book first introduces students to the main themes that underpin christian mysticism it then reflects on how modern critics have understood each of them demonstrating that stark delineation between the different theoretical approaches eventually collapses under the weight of the complex interaction between experience and knowledge that lies at the heart of christian mysticism in doing so the book presents a deliberate challenge to a strictly perennialist reading of christian mysticism anyone even remotely familiar with christian mysticism will know that renewed interest in christian mystical writers has created a huge array of scholarship with which students of mysticism need to familiarise themselves this book outlines the various modern theoretical approaches in a manner easily accessible to a reader with little or no previous knowledge of this area and offers a philosophical theological introduction to christian mystical writers beyond the patristic period important for the latin western tradition this revised and expanded edition offers a big possibility the hope of achieving real experiential union with god the christian of the future will be a mystic or will not exist this word of warning from theologian karl rahner was uttered half a century ago and today christianity is indeed in crisis is mysticism necessary for the survival of christianity what exactly is christian mysticism how can it be relevant in our crisis ridden world questions like these inspire the new big book of christian mysticism a newly updated edition from beloved spiritual teacher and bestselling author carl mccolman the new big book of christian mysticism serves as both introduction and practical instruction for a living contemplative practice today in addition to the overview of mysticism spiritual and prayer practices in mysticism the various types of mysticism in christian tradition and influential mystics through the millennia this second edition offers an embodied understanding of the mystic life with a more diverse range of voices and perspectives from howard thurman to pauli murray it also includes new chapters and themes that address embodied mysticism contemplation and social justice and the ongoing relevance of jesus s message of radical equality and inclusivity this bigger book introduces both christians and non christians to the contemplative tradition within christianity a tradition that has often been marginalized or cloistered to the church s detriment as a practice oriented book this is an invitation to embrace the mystical element within christianity a practice that can equip faithful persons with a joyful sense of divine intimacy not just for personal benefit but as a foundation to a life of service and activism in the interest of justice mccolman s overview of mysticism shows how it has been practiced and lived through the centuries and will prove inspirational for today s seekers regardless of their faith tradition at its heart christian mysticism is an ancient practice that incorporates meditation contemplation worship philosophy the quest for enlightenment the thirst for a better world and the experience of divine presence ursula king s christian mystics offers a distinctive perspective on spirituality the author presents the christian mystical tradition through short biographies of its great figures biographies which are highly readable without oversimplifying the ideas of these great figures this is an outstanding entryway into the rich and deep world of christian mysticism recommended for readers of all backgrounds michael sells professor of comparative religions haverford college a distinctive feature of mystical experience is that it is imageless mystics of various traditions witness indeed to their going beyond all intermediaries so as to enjoy immediate union understandably the idea of imageless immediacy is attractive and it is especially in vogue with those who hope to discover that different religious spiritualities converge if only the particularity of say the christian way would be left behind however a crucial question arises here if mystical union consists in simply transcending what is part and parcel of the human condition where is its relevance is the mystic as such in a position to be his or her human self thinking and loving enjoying and suffering can he or she be active in the world of humankind obviously it is especially in the christian tradition that this matter comes to the fore as a radical difficulty for here there is the divine image and mediator so much so that the humanity of jesus ought to be integral to a person's union with god perhaps the christian mystic is such an extraordinary figure that the humanity and all other images and intermediaries are for him or her at best a stepping stone that is bound to disappear the riddle of christian mystical experience aims to clarify this issue by analyzing the writings of such visionaries as julian of norwich teresa of avila and maria petyt of the ecstasy minded masters richard of saint victor bernard of clairvaux and bonaventure describing francis of assisi's experience of the cream of the flemish mystics namely hadewijch and jan van ruusbroec nevertheless the preference for the mystical text does not prevent the riddle from drawing on the insights of modern philosophers such as jean paul sartre and jean luc marion when treating of images and idols or michael polanyi and ludwig wittgenstein when reflecting on intermediaries the main result of this procedure may come as a surprise far from turning into a detached creature who forgets about the humanity and the human the full fledged mystic is as a flemish mystic puts it wholly in god where he rests in enjoyment and wholly in himself where he loves with works experiencing union with intermediary and without intermediary the true christian mystic is unimaged as well as imaged upon the humanity of our lord through heartfelt affection some books on mysticism offer new age syncretism others propose simplistic methods of producing spiritual experiences still others deconstruct religious experience the roots of christian mysticism by oliver clement however avoids these pitfalls clement presents the mysticism of the early fathers themselves from whose writings he offers exceptionally rich selections that are not readily available in so doing he introduces the reader to christian mysticism through the words of those who were "drunk with god" but whose religious experience was firmly rooted in christ most importantly given the modern propensity for bogus spirituality clement shows the indissoluble unity between mysticism and doctrine the fathers speak doctrine in voices radiant with the dark vision of god and their doctrine is both the fruit of prayer and the form of spirituality from this perspective the church's teachings about god christ church sacrament and christian vocation become the objects of contemplation and the personal quest for god finds its way within not apart from the church ecclesia christian mysticism therefore always occurs within the womb of the church particularly within the locus of the liturgy and thus is prevented at the outset from becoming merely a freewheeling and self authenticating form of emotional exuberance mysticism thus firmly rooted is considered the normal spiritual life of all christians all the faithful are called to realize fully the grace of their baptism that is to fulfill their humanity by being divinized through grace these words might be disconcerting or raise the specter of "enthusiasm" but some proper understanding of this calling however embryonic is indispensable to spiritual growth to the life of the church and to the transformation of culture why for example when so many americans claim to be christian does their faith have so little impact on our culture or why are the church's moral teachings found to be so excessively burdensome perhaps christians have seldom been directed toward a spirituality that would open them to a fuller vision of their true destiny in christ a recent classroom experience illustrates the point a young christian father of two vigorously proposed many practical reasons for using contraception his understanding of fatherhood operated on a purely naturalistic level his concern to provide for his children likewise revolved around material goods but once he glimpsed the ultimate destiny in christ to which he and his children were called he saw his fatherhood as a participation in a sacred mission and trust only then did the church's teaching and the sacrifices it entails make sense enough to follow such illumination is an essential component in the birth of mystical life from which for the fathers the moral life flows to use clement's terms "only when the beauty goodness of the truth captures the spirit heart is the person able to engage in christian praxis and to make the sacrifices necessary not merely to be good but to be transformed into christ" this transformation entails strenuous spiritual combat with a fallen human nature that the fathers understand with exquisite perception but even here the patristic thrust is basically positive an attraction to the beauty and goodness of god that calls forth virtue rather than an emphasis on the direct destruction of sin clement aptly describes asceticism as "an awakening from the sleep walking of daily life it enables the word to clear the silt away in the depth of the soul freeing the spring of living waters it is the word who acts but we have to co operate with him not so much by exertion of will power as by loving attentiveness" although spiritual growth naturally encompasses the activities of prayer fasting and so forth clement never discusses this apart from christ and trinity salvation is not achieved through pelagian self development but in christ and through his church the fathers' theological center prevents their mysticism from collapsing into self centered or naturalistic forms the beauty that attracts is never separated from her sisters truth and goodness the roots of christian mysticism needs to be read by christians seeking spiritual depth and by anyone wanting to taste doctrine as a living word it is an excellent introduction to patristic thought and offers not only extensive selections of their writings but an appendix of about seventy pages of biographical material only one criticism of the book is offered references to modern writers need to be noted so the reader can pursue them otherwise this book is a gem jerrilyn szelle crisis april 1996
