what is the soul and how do we come to know it what is its journey in life and what stages and obstacles are encountered along the way these questions are explored here in detail according to the diamond approach a spiritual path that combines systematic inquiry into personal experience the practice of traditional spiritual methods and the application of modern psychological research the inner journey home is the centerpiece of the diamond approach literature providing a complete overview of the teaching with references to the author s other books for more details on certain topics deep perception the direct awareness of individual being and the practice of being who we are argues that direct perceptions of the being or essential character of a person thing or situation are possible these include perceptions of what integrally belongs to that being the book also argues that these perceptions are enactments and expressions of our own being while the mainstreams of both analytic and continental philosophy reject the conceivability of such a perception jeremy barris argues that these traditions own implicit concepts of being allow and in fact account for its meaningfulness and possibility drawing on these implicit concepts and on zen daoist and some esoteric traditions deep perception develops an account of the nature and logic of these deep perceptions and explores the nature and method of engaging in these perceptions what is involved in living with them and their implications for various areas of our conduct prepare yourself to relocate from the grievous path of uncertainty to the indescribable aisle of destiny to fulfill a god breathed and endowed purpose god does not desire for you to live in uncertainty he desires for you to reach your destiny though moments of uncertainty may cloud your atmosphere god allows them for the simple act of appreciation and for his works to be displayed in your life christian universalism has been explored in its biblical philosophical and historical dimensions for the first time the god who saves explores it in systematic theological perspective in doing so it also offers a fresh take on universal salvation one that is postmetaphysical existential and hermeneutically critical the result is a constructive account of soteriology that does justice to both the universal scope of divine grace and the historicity of human existence in the god who saves david w congdon orients theology systematically around the new testament witness to the apocalyptic inbreaking of god's reign the result is a consistently soteriocentric theology building on the insights of rudolf bultmann ernst kasemann eberhard jungel and j louis martyn he interprets the saving act of god as the eschatological event that crucifies the old cosmos in christ human beings participate in salvation through their unconscious existential cocrucifixion in which each person is interrupted by god and placed outside of himself or herself both academically rigorous and pastorally sensitive the god who saves opens up new possibilities for understanding not only what salvation is but also who the god who brings about our salvation is here is an interdisciplinary exercise in dogmatic theology for the twenty first century what does the bible say about healing christians have been empowered by god to pray for and minister healing to others this ranges from physical ailments and mental disabilities to emotional wounds and deficiencies however there are certain things all christians must learn if they want to get the maximum results possible when it comes to healing whether it's for themselves or for someone else it is god's desire that all should be healed they shall lay hands on the sick and the sick shall recover is an enticing collaboration of testimonies scripture and commentaries to help you effectively assist those in need of god's healing power learn how to make more power available to you to deal with demonic influences affecting health discern the source of the sickness flow in the gifts of the spirit to administer healing and live a consecrated life so god can use you as he desires
