from the seventeenth century attempts to formulate a history of man to freud s mores and monotheism de certeau examines the west s changing conceptions of the role and nature of history

a historian of early christianity considers various theoretical critiques to examine the problems and opportunities posed by the ways in which history is written clark argues for a renewal of the study of premodern western history through engagement with the critical methods that have transformed other humanities disciplines in recent decades both as historian and maker of culture foucault infused numerous disciplines of study with a new conceptual vocabulary and an agenda for future research his ideas have called central assumptions in western culture into question and altered the ways in which scholars and social scientists approach such issues as discourse theory theory of knowledge eros technologies of the self and other punishment and prisons and asylums and madness the contributors to this volume indicate foucault s achievements and the suggestive power of his work as well as his methodological weaknesses historical inaccuracies and ambiguities above all they attempt to show how one can use Foucault to go beyond him in opening new approaches to cultural history though comprehensiveness was not attempted their essays broach the major controversial aspects of Foucauldian cultural history the position of the subject the fusion of power and knowledge sexuality the historical structures and changes and they explicitly analyze them with respect to antiquity the renaissance and the nineteenth century in this collection Neubauer presents analyses by historians literary scholars and philosophers of the entire transdisciplinary range of Foucault's oeuvre emphasizing the rich suggestiveness of its agenda the breadth of the undertaking makes it suitable for seminars and graduate courses in numerous departments
